BELSI

Today the Moscow company BELSI is the leader on the market of functional designer furniture in Russia. The brand was founded in 2011 by Alexei and Natalia Sibilevs. The first product of the company was the built-in ironing board, for the design of which BELSI received a patent, and after that it was decided to put it into mass production.

Then the company began to gradually expand, cooperate with beginners and promising designers, and later created a whole range of products that are suitable for home, offices and hotels. The company's goal is to develop modern Russian design on the global market.

Production BELSI production is a space filled with modern machines and various equipment for manufacturing and assembling furniture products. Most of the production processes are automated, which greatly facilitates the work of the employees. It should be noted that the company uses only high quality materials and does not work with plastics.

The process of manufacturing designer furniture itself consists of several stages: the design office creates a model, then they make its prototype, after making all changes in the design, begins the production of the final product. The final product passes through the technical control department, and then is packaged for further transportation.
