At the same time, the fabric used is soft, well protected against cold and wear, so the products look like new even after multiple washings.

The ingenious design of the product provides complete freedom of movement for the child and convenience of use. In addition, all Arctiline products has reflective elements: edges, ribbons and decorative elements. The average temperature of the Arctiline products is from -5°C to -40°C.

High Quality

Natural heater: goose down feather

Most models are filled with the highest quality insulation - goose down (90% down, 10% feather), which has a good hygroscopic - due to its characteristic structure, it simultaneously retains heat inside and lets moisture out. Thus, in such a down coat the child will not freeze and will not sweat.

Water-repellent teflon coating DuPontTeflon

Products made of this material do not absorb moisture and repel dirt. If dirty, the product can be wiped or washed under water, thereby reducing the number of washings and increasing the life of the product.
